SEATTLE, WASH.

While I cannot hope to equal either in volume or newness, the last letter of Seattle News by W. S. R., I will nevertheless try and send in a few recent happenings.

Roy Harris has returned from Wenatchee and secured steady work at his trade as carpenter. Shows the value to the deaf of having a regular trade.

Mrs. Stuard, of Payallup, was among the many out-of-town guests at the New Year party.

Santa Claus arrived a little early at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Strong, of Yakima, with his big Christmas Bag fairly overflowing and his face radiating cheer and good will as he left a bouncing baby girl with the proud papa and mama, on December 16th. From the Strong home he made his rounds and returning to Yakima on the 25th, leaving a fine girl baby weighing 10½ lbs. with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Millard. Congratulations to both the happy families.

Henry Ott, of Spokane, recently purchased a shoe-shine stand, and from all reports is doing well.

Miss Edna Smith, a former pupil of the Idaho School, has left Yakima and secured employment in Seattle. Welcome.

Clifford Deveraux, of Yakima, is in Seattle for the winter.

Charles Frederickson, of East Stanwood, has one of the finest shoe repair shops in this part of the country, equipped with electric machinery, and located in his own building on the main street of Stanwood. Charles has just accepted delivery of a swell 1922 Dodge Roadster. We hardly think Charles needs the car for delivery purposes, so the young ladies will probably soon be enjoying some nice auto rides.

Holger Jensen and a Miss Jones, a hearing girl, were married in Olympia not long ago.

Louis Kotula is back at his home at Pe Ell. He is pitcher on the newly organized Oakland (California) Silent Athletic Club Base Ball Team. Louis says he will return to Oakland in February and will be captain of the 1923 team. Oscar Sanders, and others—please take notice, Seattle has no such club.

Sheldon McArthur, who learned the game under Coach Hunter at the Vancouver School, has been playing as captain and Quarter-back on the Oakland Silents Foot Ball Team.

Therle Floyd, who has had steady employment at a local mill, has gone to Oregon to visit his folks for a few months.

The death of Joseph Snider occurred at Tumwater, near Olympia, on Thanksgiving Day. The daily papers report it as another case of moonshine drinking.

Miss Eva Hoganson, who has been acting as girls' supervisor at the Iowa School, has returned to her home in Spokane.

Frank J. Courtney, a late arrival from Missouri, and regarded as a most promising lightweight boxer, is now working in Olympia.

Frank Harlow, fresh from Chicago, has been visiting relatives in this section, but has lately dropped from sight, and no one seems to know his whereabouts.

Ralph Pickett, from Portland, has been working on a tugboat around the Sound.

Among those who have shown their faith in the new "Durant Baby" (Star Motor Car Shares) are Edwin Johnson, Arthur Martin and Bryan Wilson. Here's wishing the boys success in their investment.

Miss Florence Hollenbeck, of Burlington, has steady employment at the Sedro-Wooley Box and Veneer Co., while her brother Everett and Louis Bartl work at the Forest Mill at Birdsview.

William Sneve and "Bill" Henderson are among those with steady employment at the Anaerco Box Factory. We are informed that Miss Vera Sneve, former pupil at the Vancouver School, has been married to a Harold Harris, who is working in Yakima, writes friends he will soon be in Seattle to stay.

Miss Nannie Floyd, a former Kentucky girl, and Miss Grace Perringer, of Portland, are reported to be planning to emigrate to Seattle the present month.

Emmit Hodgson, a former Vancouver pupil, is managing his mother's farm at Mossy Rock. He has not seen any deaf for eight years and would like to hear from former schoolmates.

Bryan Wilson journeyed over to Portland during the holidays, and report has it that his presence made an even eighty at the party on the 23d.

Nearly 100 were present at the New Year's party of the Seattle Frats. The Committee in charge, Andrew Genner, Hugo Holcombe, Fred Kuhn, John Bodley and Bryan Wilson, worked like beavers, both before and during the party, and as a result, every one reports a fine time. Dancing and several unique "stunts" were the diversions of the evening, topped off with plenty of refreshments.

After all expenses were paid, there was about $18 left in the treasury. Among the out-of-towners present were: Jas. H. O'Leary, of Spokane; E. Frederickson, Rex Oliver, Alletta LeVassar, Mr. and Mrs. Pierson, and Fred Emmons, from Everett; Mrs. Geo. Ecker, Frank Farlow, Glen McNeish from Tacoma; Edna Smith, Clifford Deveraux, from Yakima; Frank Kelly, Port Angeles; Francis Robinson, North Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart and Hugo Holcomb, from Bremerton; Doris Thompson, Waukegan; Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves Vancouver; Mrs. Geo. Riley, from Victoria B. C.; Leonard Ward, from Portland; and John Hood, from Buckley.

Jas. H. O'Leary, of Spokane, surprised his many Seattle friends by dropping in on us in time to attend the party. Mr. O'Leary came over partly on business of the State Association, and partly on pleasure bent. During his stay in Seattle, he met many of his old-time business associates, and the members of the Seattle Committee fighting the proposed attempt to bar the deaf from driving autos. At the frat party, he gave a short talk outlining the progress that was being made.

Report has it that Platt Connick, of Walla Walla, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, and is now doing nicely.

Leonard Cruzan, of Tacoma, was recently sentenced to serve two to ten years at Monroe Reformatory for a statutory offense.

Christmas services were conducted at the Lutheran Church by Rev. Gaertner Christmas Day. After the services a Christmas tree was stripped, bags of candy and nuts were distributed to all. On behalf of the Seattle deaf, W. S. Root presented Rev. and Mrs. Gaertner with a fine mantel clock, as a token of their esteem for their tireless work in their behalf.

The Dorter family are once more able to meet their many friends, after being quarantined several weeks from a seige of Diphtheria.

It is reported that the Rev. George Flock, of Chicago, will be a Seattle visitor this month, and plans are being made to have him address the local deaf during his stay.

Seattle had about three weeks of snow recently, and the youngsters had a merry time coasting on the hills. It was decidedly cold for this section, and we are informed that one night Chas. Al. Gumaer placed his 20-carat teeth in a glass of water on the roof, the next morning, Chas. Al. woke and found the glass of water frozen solid, with his best bet in the chewing line in the middle of the cake of ice, he had to build a fire and thaw out his teeth before he could partake of his usual ham and—We have often heard of feet and fingers being frozen, but this is the first time we heard of frozen teeth.

Robert Rogers, of Ellensburg, is in town for the winter.

N. C. Garrison and family spent Christmas with his wife's parents in Port Angeles.

The Root Printery turned out a neat booklet of poems just before Christmas. One of these had so much homely truth in it that I am adding it here:

Tell your wife you love her—
Just as you used to do—
Don't only tell her; show her
That what you say is true.

Do something worth while for her,
Get her something new;
When you were her beau you did it,
Do now as you used to do.

Treat her like a sweetheart,
Honestly and true;
Not only for a day, or a week,
But all the time, clear through

Be kind and thoughtful of her,
In everything you do;
Treat her as a husband should—
She likes hugs and kisses, too.

Lighten all her cares and burdens,
Take her with you when you go;
Don't be small and stingy with her,
Take her to a circus show

Share your money fairly with her,
It doesn't all belong to you;
She likes to feel some in her pocket,
Now, honestly,—don't you?

If you treat her as you ought to—
As good, kind husbands do—
She'll think you're some man-angel,
Just as you want her to.

An other rather original Christmas

Card turned out by the same shop

reads as follows:—

Eve had no Christmas,

Nell'er did poor Adams;

Don't have no sex.

Nobody ever had them.

Never got cards,

Nobody did—

Take this and have it

On Adams, old kid.

The following are the new officers

Seattle and Vancouver. It was a close and exciting game, but Seattle

finally won, after an extra fifteen minutes of playing.

The cost of these places was about

$7,000 each.

John W. Cross, who was out with the rest of the Great Northern men on their recent strike, has lost his job. He may be able to go back, but it is very uncertain, as the G. N.

officials have decided to bar all deaf from the railroad shops. John is one of the best machinists in the Northwest.

John Frisby makes $7.00 a day

as a moulder and coremaker.

The Spokane Lodge of Moose

here for at least a year.

John Frisbee has purchased a new 1923 Chevrolet auto.

The Social Committee for the coming State Convention at Spokane consists of: John Skoglund,

Chairman, Mrs. E. Winchell, J.

W. Moore, Mrs. A. J. Sackville-

West and John Frisby. Nuff sed;

they are all hustlers.

We see by the newspapers that

Mrs. Clara O'Leary, wife of the president of the State Association, has been elected Senior Regent of the Mooseheart, an auxiliary of the Moose Lodge in Spokane.

26th for California points. Several of our ladies are hoping he will return. We hardly dare mention any names now, but hope to later on.

Mrs. Fred Kuhn has returned from a visit of several weeks with her parents in Sacramento, California.

Mrs. George Riley, of Victoria, B. C., spent the holidays in Seattle. On January 6th, Mrs. Riley entertained the local deaf ladies at an afternoon tea, at the home of her mother on Twenty-third Avenue.

The Root Printery is enjoying a season of great prosperity, and the genial proprietor and his assistant are having a hard time keeping ahead of orders. The shop will soon be moved to new and more commodious quarters, as work on Seattle's new $2,000,000 hotel will start about April 1st, and the main entrance will be where the shop is now located.

L. O. Christenson, who has had a hearing man working with him in his print shop the past year, has decided he can do better alone, and as a consequence the hearing man was given his walking papers the first of the year. Here's wishing you luck, L. O. C.

The father of W. S. Root passed away at the family home at Albion, N. Y., on New Year's Day, at the ripe old age of ninety years and two months. This is the second death in Mr. Root's family in the past three months, as the father of Mr. Root's wife died about two months ago.

John Hagadorn spent a few days before Christmas at his old home below Port Angeles. During his absence his wife visited her parents in Tacoma.

The Northern Life Insurance Co. have removed practically all bars to the deaf obtaining life insurance, and quite a few of the local deaf now have policies in this company. N. C. Garrison has been appointed special representative, and is meeting with fair success in his efforts. Among the latest to obtain policies in this company are: Joseph Kirschbaum, Claude Wood, Leonard Rasmussen and Fred Kuhn. Several others are expected to sign up in the near future.

Rex LeRoy Oliver was in town from Everett for the holidays. Affectionately branded by his friends as the "Dude from Everett," and as "Everett True," Rex is bemoaning the fact that Kings and Rulers are no longer in style, as his name "R-x" in Latin means "King," and the second name LeRoy stand for "Ruler." Rex says, since kings are out of date, he can probably be dog catcher anyway.

N. C. GARRISON.
SEATTLE, WASH., Jan. 5, 1923.

GREENSBURG, PA.

The grandfather of James Pringle, who died at Old Soldier's Home in Dayton, O., December 31st, was brought to Pittsburgh for burial, Monday, January 1st, 1923.

Harry O. Fox has returned from Huntington, Pa., where he spent New Year's with his "dearie." No wonder he is truly a happy chap.

Roy Nordstrom, employed as a general distributor in Henry Company's job printing establishment in this town, got a Christmas gift in the form of a five dollars in gold from his boss. Then he bled himself away to his home in the locality of Derry, Pa., where he passed a most enjoyable Christmas holiday with his parents. While at home he was made glad by several useful and nice Christmas presents by good old Santa.

Mr. E. C. Harab, the Sage of Casselman, was in town one evening last week, on his way to "The Smoky City." Of course, he took occasion to call on his former schoolmate and friend, Frank Widaman. They both had a good chat, reminiscence over their school days together. Doubtless they were saddened by the demise of their beloved old instructor, Dr. John B. Hotchkiss, of Gallaudet College. They always admired him as a man of scholarly attainments, as well as writing Alumni notes for the Buff and Blue with keen humor.

Felix S. Hogenmiller, Jim Pringle, Roy Nordstrom, Harry Fox and "Rex," from this beautiful County, attended the annual banquet held in the General Forbes Hotel, Pittsburgh, December 9th, 1922, in honor of the birthday anniversary of Thomas H. Gallaudet, founder of American education for deaf-mutes. Besides they truly enjoyed interesting and profitable speeches, which several able men delivered on the great American educator's life. Well, we have to doff our soft brown hats to the chairman and his able and efficient aids, for the successful manner in which they manipulated this affair. We feel that every one present had a good time. It is said with pleasure that those have always taken a keen interest in the Pittsburgh Branch of the National Association of the Deaf. It is our firm belief that this Branch may make a better showing than it was this year, when Gallaudet's birthday comes. Well, its object is to show hearing people how ably and well every deaf is educated throughout the country.

Crafty Harry Fox was tendered a delightful surprise party on Saturday night, December 16th, when a number of his friends assembled at the beautiful home of his married sister in Southeast Greensburg. This was in honor of the twenty-third birthday anniversary of our genial friend. He was surprised beyond description, but he soon recovered and did his level best to entertain his friends during the night. An evening of merry making was indulged in by everyone, after which a delicious repast was served. Mr. Fox was a happy recipient of several useful and pretty birthday presents. Roy Nordstrom and your humble servant carried out the party successfully. The party dispersed for home, wishing happy Harry to enjoy many more anniversaries.

Those who participated in the surprise: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gruff, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Poole, Mrs. Julia Collins and Miss Mildred Fox, and Messrs. Felix S. Hogenmiller, Frank Widaman, Roy Nordstrom, and Jim Pringle.

There will at no distant day be another surprise in store for a certain party, who lives a few miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Poole delightfully entertained a few of their invited guests at a chicken and waffle dinner at their country home adjoining Hunker station, on New Year's. To say that it was in every respect an excellent affair would be putting it mildly. A pleasant social time was the result. The Pooles always prove themselves hospitable entertainers.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Felix S. Hogenmiller and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haly, of Jeannette; Mrs. Walter Bosworth, of Swissvale; Mrs. Julia Collins, of Youngwood, and John Smith, of Mt. Pleasant, and "Rex."

Rev. Frank C. Smielau conducted an interesting service at Christ Episcopal Church here on December 17th. At the conclusion of the service, as Rev. Smielau was requested to stand up, Mrs. Poole came to him and handed a cash envelope to him, making a neat little speech on behalf of his silent flock.

Our Reverend gentleman was beyond measure surprised, and then in a touching little reply he felt very thankful to his friends for their kind thoughtfulness of him. It was in the occasion of the twentieth year of his Priesthood. During these years he has with a high degree of success done missionary work among the deaf in Western and Central Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haly, of Jeannette, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Felix S. Hogenmiller and Messrs. Charles A. Chatham, of Altoona, and Frank Widaman at a 12 o'clock dinner at their cozy bungalow, Sunday, November 12th. A pleasant time was the result. Ye local was in receipt of a goodly number of Christmas presents and cards, which he evidently enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Walter Bosworth, of Swissvale, has returned home from Scottdale, where she spent the week-end with Walter's parents. We understand that she enjoyed her visit immensely.

Mr. Charles A. Chatham, of Altoona, was confined to his boarding place with sickness for more than a week, as the result of La Grippe. He was so well as to resume his post with the P. R. R. Company.

Electric Eye to See Play Over

POSSIBILITIES OF WIRELESS WAVES
DISCUSSED BY SCIENTISTS.

The time will come soon when wireless waves will enable us to accomplish a great more than they do at present, scientists say.

Today, as we hear the words and the music of a song, or the notes of an instrument, we often wonder what the soloist is like; the wireless sets of tomorrow will make it possible for us to see him, to watch his every movement.

Beside the loud speaker of the super wireless set will stand a ground-glass screen, like that used for focusing a camera. Upon this will appear the figure of the performer, faint and hazy when it is first picked up, but clear and sharp when the necessary tuning has been accomplished.

Broadcasting will be confined no longer to vocal and instrumental items; we shall be able to watch the swift hands of a conjurer whilst we smile at his "patter," and the trick cyclist may broadcast his turn to the ends of the country.

How is this amazing wireless feat to be accomplished? We can say that it has been done already, though not in quite such an elaborate way. Photographs and finger-prints have been sent over considerable distances, and from the still photograph to the moving figure is no greater jump than from the magic lantern of yesterday to the cinematograph of today.

The key to the mystery lies in the discovery of some kind of electrical eye. The telephone is simply an imitation of the vocal cords and the ear-drum.

For television we need an appliance that can be made to answer, through we have not yet discovered completely how it should be used. This something is a substance known as selenium. In the light it will allow an electric current to pass though it quite easily, but in the dark it changes its nature, becoming a strong resistor of electricity and allowing only a minute current to pass.

By means of an instrument using selenium it is quite easy to send by wireless a single line consisting of a black stroke broken at will by white spaces. At the transmitting end is a lens focusing a beam of light on to the selenium element; at the other is an ordinary receiver with a relay operating a pencil.

When light falling upon the sending apparatus allows a current to pass, the pencil of the receiver is raised by a magnet and makes no marks upon the paper; but when darkness cuts off the current, the pencil falls and makes a mark.

If you take a magnifying glass and examine one of the illustrations of a book, you will see that it consists of nothing but rows of tiny dots, some black, some white.

To send a photograph by wireless we would have to break it up into dots by means of suitable screens, and then transmit it dot by dot, which, even if done mechanically, would take sometimes.

To make seeing by wireless a practical proposition we must send all the dots at once. We could do so by using thousands of selenium cells, but this would be a difficult and expensive business.

However, the problem is nearing its solution. Some of the biggest brains in wireless are engaged upon it, and when their task is accomplished it will be possible to broadcast a whole theatrical performance—words, music, scenery, actors, and actions. A person in London will be able to watch a musical comedy or drama while it is being played in New York.—Queensboro Daily Star.

CHICAGO.

To play $2 for a year's subscription to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, and then to die before the first copy can be received, was the unique distinction of Fred Scholz, 58, who died January 3d. His subscription was taken just after Christmas.

Funeral sermon was read by the Lutheran pastor.

The masquerade of the Silent A. C., January 6th, was not the glittering success anticipated, most of the silents appearing to be saving their suits and ideas for the one big, sure-fire hit—the 21st annual masquerade of the Frat division, February 3d. Chairman Abe Mizatz avers everything will be "done right"—and Abe's word can be relied on. The sum of $100 in cash prizes has been guaranteed by the Frat division on itself, and the division will certainly see that vouchers for $100 worth of prizes are received for.

Last year Sac Hall was simply jammed; just how Abe and his assistants will accommodate the throng this year is a problem. But those who manage to get in are simply assured an eye-ful.

PRETENDED DEAF-MUTE BEGGARS CAPTURED.

A modern Fagin, who teaches crime to youths in their teens, was being sought by Chicago police last night following the confession of two pupils in Kenosha to obtaining money under false pretenses.

The two accused Jacques Lemoyne. No address was given. Harry Monroe, 19, and Donald Johnson, 17, of Manchester, Ind., were arrested while begging in the streets for a "journalistic education."

Both professed to be deaf and dumb. For two hours they kept up the deception in the police station, writing out answers to all questions. Chief Logan, however, trapped them, and both told of having been taught the ruse by Lemoyne. They are being held while search is made for the professor.—H. & E., Jan. 7.

Every other Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the Sac play "500," keeping record of their respective scores. Twice a year the members who stand lowest in total points have to cook a feed, the cost of which is divided equally among winners and losers alike. The twice-yearly feed of January 9th equaled the regular $2 meals served downtown, although pro rata it cost each diner only sixty cents. The second semester began on the 17th—all ladies affiliated with the Sac welcome.

Houdini, appearing at a local vaudeville house in his latest stunt, escaping from a water-filled chamber, in which he is locked head downwards asks a delegation from the audience to step up and inspect the apparatus. Noticing, making signs, to my red-headed son, he beckoned the kid up on the stage, locked his little boots in the torture chamber, and by getting him to "show off" created almost as much interest in the little Vancouver varmint as in Houdini himself.

The world's foremost self-liberator, or handcuff king, has had considerable experience with deaf folks, and doubtless realizes that children of the deaf are more alert and adaptable to strange situations than children of normal parents.

Mrs. E. Craig invited 18 ladies to a luncheon honoring Mrs. Alice Hinch, January 5th. This Ohio and charming chicken is spending a week as guest of the Johnnie Sullivans—a welcome respite from her three years exile in some tank town where she and her mother run a hospital.

Abe Mizatz, "the cheerful chairman of every old thing," is all puffed-up like a pouter pigeon. Thinks he is one of the greatest benefactors of the race since the days of Noah. Cause why? Cause his wife gave him a Happy New Year present of a nine-pound boy, January 5th.

Mrs. Wm. J. O'Neil has been called to Milwaukee for a few weeks, taking care of the house of her married daughter, who received another child January 10th. This makes three grandchildren—and "Grand-maw Cora" still looks so young that poll clerks give her a second glance to be sure she is of legal voting age. "Twasn't like that in 'the good old days,' when a female over 30 was supposed to take her knitting and retire to a fireside, corner there to cuddle for the rest of her life.

Nowadays the grandmas wear flap-length skirts and silk hose, and out-dance their athletic grandchildren until the peep of dawn.

Friends gave an entertainment December 17th to the Charles Hayfords, of Brookfield.

Dates ahead. January 20—I. A. D. election, at All Angels' Church. 27—Lecture at Pas by ex-supt. Morrison, of Missouri. Also "Street Fair" at Sac February 2—Big frat ball, at Sac (see ad on last page) one of the biggest social events of the year; $100 cash prizes.

Baptist Evangelist to the Deaf
Will answer all calls.

J. W. MICHAELS,
Fort Smith, Ark.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Far be it from us to start our first news letter of the New Year with old moss-covered stuff such as "Ring out the Old; Ring in the New," etc., but getting right down to brass tacks, that great evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, surely said a mouthful when he once remarked, "I think it would take the wrinkles out of your brow if you would look into the future instead of the past."

Verily, fellow townsmen, if only we would forget our petty jealousies and prejudices, smallness of mind in many dampish trifling matters, forget the past; turn over a new leaf and look forward to the future, all would be well and lovely for "The Greatest town on Earth."

A local young mother of three "chips off the old block" (yet the three are all girls), recently told us she had so little time to devote to reading the JOURNAL that she was forced to confine herself to reading the advertisements and our columns. We were so upset by her statement that we forgot to ask her which she found the most amusing.

Just as we were about to inquire as to what had become of him, but who does appear in our midst unannounced and unheralded and unaccompanied by a brass band, none other than our good old friend and spiritual adviser, Reverend John W. Michaels, for his first local visit in over two years. He held divine services for the deaf of the Three Falls Cities at the Baptist Church, at Fourth and Oak Streets, on the afternoon of Sunday, December 17th, before a good-sized audience. The only fault we have to find with our reverend friend is: He has failed to make "The Greatest Town on Earth" a more frequent stopping place on his itinerary.

The many friends of Mr. Harry Whitney will be greatly pleased to hear that he is well on the road to recovery and is almost his old self again, having gained 16½ pounds, after several months' confinement at a local sanatorium. However, it's a "safety first" with Harry, as he intends to stay there a little while longer before returning to work.

Misses Lena Hovious, of Knifley, Kentucky, and Grace Morrison, of Lebanon Junction, Kentucky, are spending the long dreary winter months in the city, learning the art of "rolling the weed." The former is the latter's aunt. They are staying with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fugate.

The young lady across the way remarks that "The Public be—" is sure the Louisville Railway Company's motto. The Company sure stirred up a hornet's nest by installing one man "safety" (?) cars on the Oak Street Line. The silent residents of the East End are up in arms at what they consider the rawest Christmas present ever on record, and have sworn vengeance.

We know one who will buy a "tin lizzie," and hear of one who threatens to buy an airplane in which to go to and from work. Benjamin Franklin Flynn, living on South Brook Street, near Oak, for several years past, evidently got disgusted in having his name associated with the world famous Brook Street cars, that he surely showed some speed in getting away from it. His new abode is 1833 Speed Avenue.

About this time of the New Year, it is not how easy it is to make resolutions, but how much easier it is to forget them.

Charles H. Matthews writes that he has moved back to Paducah, Kentucky, from Metropolis, Ill., and has changed his occupation from baker to shoe factory worker. It sounds like "A tale of two cities," as he has lived in one or the other towns for several years past.

It is moving day with Jackson Morrison, farmer, nowadays, from Lebanon Junction, Kentucky, to his recently acquired farm at Bardstons, where he intends to farm on an extensive scale. Besides his new town is nearer to the city and it means more frequent trips here.

Robert Downs, a big husky, healthy local youngster, is the latest acquisition to Louisville Division, No. 4, N. F. S. D. "Watch us grow."

The Louisville Athletic Association, which controls the Louisville "Colonels" franchise in the American Association, is building a modern ball park, patterned after the "cubs" park in Chicago, at Brook and Eastern Parkway. By the way, "Foxy" Fred Harris is wearing "the smile that won't come off." The new park is just around the corner from his house. Great, ain't it?

A New Year's Thought—Paste this in your hat: "If time is money (as the 'bosses' say), then most of us ought to be rich by now."

Mrs. George E. Hartman, of Cleveland, Ohio (but our own Maud Bruner, etc.), had her Christmas period saddened by being called to the city by the death of her sister. George Gordon Kannappell, finding a little idle time on his hands, utilized it to good advantage, by running down to Danville to pay a brief visit to his alma mater, dear old K. S. D., recently.

Our hats are off to and our congratulations due Lloyd E. Scott, formerly of Louisville, but now of Nashville, Tenn., on the occasion of his being elected to the Presidency of Nashville; Division of the N. F. S. D.

Here's very bad news for Lloyd, but we will try to break it to him as gently as possible: His favorite blackberry patch went up in flames last November, and like the historic Humpty Dumpty, can not come back.

We were recently asked by Herman H. Kohn, the burning question, "What is the best way to Florida?" Without much hesitation we replied: Drive an airplane until you get beyond Kentucky's part of the Dixie Highway. No wonder Kohn is still in town, but avers that he will be in Florida eventually. But why not now?

Rev. Henry J. Pulver, of Washington, D. C., held divine religious services for the Deaf of the three Falls Cities, at Christ Church Cathedral, on the afternoon of Sunday, December 24th. Despite the excitement incident to the day of days, he was greeted by a capacity audience.

Professor and Mrs. Max N. Marcosson, of dear old K. S. D., were in the city just before Christmas. The latter on a shopping tour, while the professor stopped at a local hospital for inspection, following a recent surgical operation.

Adrian Anthony Bohnert, the baby member of No. 4, etc., has left town. Latest reports have him as manipulating the ivories of a Mergerthaler in the Hazard, Ky., Lead er office. That he will make good is the wish of every one who knows him.

Later—Less than ten days; he returned home—"homesick" for dear old Louisville, from whence one leaves, surely "stray chickens always come back."

"Uncle" Patrick Dolan, "prexy" extraordinary of Louisville Division No. 4, N. F. S. D., surely started the New Year right by getting a good start. He promises a business administration, and with that end in view, asked for the co-operation and encouragement of all concerned. He not only had his request granted, but got three ringing cheers in addition. Good old Pat, we're strong for you.

FANWOOD.

On Thursday evening, the 11th of January, an entertainment was given by Miss Alice Teegarden's Junior High Class, in the chapel, before the Fanwood Literary Association. The stories were very interesting. The debate was between Miss Rachel Shapiro, the Affirmative, and Miss Dora Steffens, the Negative. The judges gave three points to the negative and one point to the affirmative. The audience had a laugh at the good jokes by Misses Schmurack and Salta.

The following was the program:—

BIOGRAPHY of Hawthorne, by Mabel Bowser.

READING from "The Wonder Book," by Gladys Dennis.

DEBATE—Resolved, That the proposed calendar change would be beneficial.

BASKET BALL

On Saturday last, the basketball players left here with the manager and the scorer and went to Ossining, N. Y., for a game with the Mount Pleasant Military Academy.

The Fanwoods were victorious in a spirited game by one point, winning by 26 to 25. Mr. Weiss was the referee.

At three o'clock, the game started. Shafranek, the right forward, first made a successful shot for a goal after the center batted to Byliniski, who passed it to the star shooter. The latter team fouled our team many times, but Shafranek failed from the free try. He only made one foul out of 5, and the rival team scored five fouls, which luckily increased their points. Duncan was the foul shooter. The score was 16 to 11.

In the second, half the Fanwoods determined to exhibit their skillful playing and their teamwork was brilliant. The score was 24 to 20 after Sampedo, the star forward, scored four goals. The silent team had an advantage at once. The ball was batted to one of the players and then quickly passed and Byliniski threw a neat goal. Again he shot two more goals. Later Sampedo scored on a foul. The game was ended. The tally was 26 to 25.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

ALPHABET ATHLETIC CLUB

"Satidddy nite," January 13th, 1923, has come and gone, so has "ye Olden Barn Dance" under the auspices of the Alphabet Athletic Club, at Maennerchor Hall, 207 East 56th Street.

Maennerchor Hall, by the way, is not a new hall by any means. It was in this very hall that the Manhattan Literary Association held a Ball in the winter of 1899, but since that time no other organization seems to have spotted it till the Alphabet boys came along, and thought it a good place to hold their Barn Dance.

The attendance was all that was expected, the hall being crowded. The committee in charge pulled off several indoor games, among which was a potato race, which was won by Miss Eva Todris, who received a bottle of perfume.

This was followed by a pie-eating contest, and Isidore Sweet proved the best pie-eater, and was awarded a four in-hand tie as the prize.

After this in costume parade around the hall to enable the Judges, Messrs. Harry Pierce Kane, Allen Hitchcock, Marcus L. Kenner, Misses Elizabeth MacLaird and Gertrude Dusauley to pick out the winners.

LADIES.

First prize—Miss Jennie Stollhoff, farmerette, a large Japanese work basket.

Second prize—Mrs. Burke, a medium sized Japanese work basket.

Third prize—Miss Jane Henry, "Sunbonnet Sue," a small Japanese work basket.

GENTLEMEN

First prize—Abe Goldstein, an ancient farmer, Gillette safety razor.

Second prize—Norman Magnus, a school boy, a belt.

Third prize—Harry Miller, Sheriff, a small deck of cards.

A raffle was also held, and V. Fitzgerald won a $5 gold piece, and Julius Lepkin got $2.50 in cash.

The affair was attended by the younger element for the most part, but here and there were several old timers who never miss functions given by deaf societies. It was a very orderly and enjoyable affair, and the society and committee are to be commended for the fine showing made. Those present surely enjoyed themselves.

The following comprise the newly elected officers of the Alphabet Club, who will guide the organization during 1923: Jack M. Ebin, President; David Polinsky, Vice President; Leonard Kramer, Secretary; Morris Rubin, Treasurer; Benjamin Dembo, Sergeant-at-Arms; Jack F. Eberhardt, General Athletic Manager; Herbert Kontzer, Emanuel Kerner and Jack Eberhardt, Board of Trustees.

DEAF-MUTES' UNION LEAGUE

On Thursday evening, January 11th, 1923, the Deaf-Mutes' Union League held three meetings in one night. First they went through with the regular monthly business meeting, then the annual meeting, and finally the installation of the officers, who are to guide the League during 1923, were sworn in and are as follows:

President, Emanuel Souweine; First Vice-President, Abraham Barr; Second Vice-President, Joseph Worzel; Secretary, Samuel Lowenherz; Treasurer, Emil Basch; Board of Governors, Francis W. Nuboer, James B. Gass and Anthony Capelle.

President, Souweine, then appointed the Standing Committees.

BROOKLYN DIV., No. 23.

Great as was the success of the Masquerade Ball last year, we believe the 1923 Ball will far surpass all that has been done before. The hustle and bustle on the part of the committee, with Chairman Ben at the helm, assisted by his loyal crew, James H. Manning, Edward Baum, Izzy Blumenthal and Bell Davis, shows things are running on a gigantic scale, and the outlook is a record breaking attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Kaminsky acted as hosts to a party of friends at their home in the Bronx, on the evening of December 30th, the object of the occasion being to introduce the gathering to Miss Mary Crump, of Miami, Fla., who is chairman at Gallaudet College. Crump is Miss Belle Pusrin's sister at Gallaudet, and as is usual with a large number of new Yorkers, the latter is a Kaminsky. This situation in a nutshell, the party was continuing Crump's visit. As did not be definitely only a short time before other guests were present, because they were en route elsewhere.

DETROIT.

News items for this column, and new subscriptions to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, will be received by R. V. Jones, 3147 Lycaete Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

The good "ship," Nineteen Twenty-three, has left its "ways," and is headed for the unknown seas. How many of us will be "on deck" when it reaches the port of Nineteen Twenty-four?

Does it not behoove us to watch our "compass" so that we may steer clear of the "rock" of temptation, "shoal waters" of greed, envy or hate?

In these days of dangerous traffic, life is more uncertain than ever, and death stalks at your elbow, so let us make it as pleasant and beneficial as possible.

If you have broken any of your New Year's resolutions, have them cemented together again right away.

"Life is real, life is earnest. And the grave is not its goal, Dust thou art, to dust returnest, Was not spoken of the soul. Let us then be up and doing, With a heart for any fate, Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor, and to wait."

News is as scarce as hen's teeth this week, but it is not our fault. This column is open to all the deaf, friend or foe, and not only those of Detroit, but to those in any part of the State, who care to send in their items.

My address is plainly printed at the head of this column, and I would be more than pleased to re-write any news sent in.

So, my dear readers, if you enjoy this column, help make it enjoyable to others by sending in your items.

We received a postal from Mrs. William F. Murphy, of Grove City, Ohio, formerly of Detroit, stating that her husband is recovering from an injury to his eyes that has laid him up for twelve weeks, and sends regards to all their old Detroit friends. Their address is Route No. 2, Grove City, O. She also asks for the address of Edward McMullen, which we are unable to supply.

Mr. John S. Snyder left on December 29th, for Erie, Pennsylvania, on a visit to his mother, whom he had not seen for seventeen years. He found her in good health, and the meeting was a joyful one for both, making it indeed a happy New Year.

There was a joint meeting of the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission for the Deaf and the Ladies' Guild of the Mission, after the Sunday Bible Service, on January 7th, at which the policy of both the Mission and the Guild was harmoniously decided for the current year.

Mr. Horace B. Waters, who was Lay Reader under Rev. Allabough, was nominated to be our Lay Reader, and the Secretary was instructed to write to Rev. Charles requesting a Lay Reader's license for Mr. Waters.

R. V. Jones was appointed Bible Service leader; Messrs Geo Davis, Arthur Meek and Clyde Barnett, were appointed to serve as Board of Trustees; Messrs. Ralph Huhn and Walter Earl were appointed as Ushers, with Mr. Snyder and Mr. Henderson as collectors of church offerings.

The following standing committee for 1923 were also appointed: Vestry and Altar, Mrs. Henderson; Sick Committees, Mrs. Schneider; Visiting Committee on Dilatory Attendance, Mrs. H. B. Waters and Mrs. Preston Perry; Chairman of Entertainment Committee, Mrs. E. Ball; Chairman of Social Committee, Mrs. Gatten.

Mrs. R. V. Jones, president of the Ladies' Guild of the Ephphatha Mission for the Deaf, announces the following appointments for the current year: Sick Committee, Mrs. Hull and Miss Stark; Altar Committee, Mrs. Gatten and Mrs. Grunow; Board of Trustees, Mrs. Behrendt, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Gatten. Mrs. Schurider was appointed chairman of the February entertainment.

The outlook is bright for both the Mission and the Guild, and it is hoped that the attendance will increase as the year advances.

Mr. F. E. Ryan has been laid up for a few days with a bad attack of rheumatism, and is barely able to hobble to his work at the Ford factory. Our sympathy is with you Fred, for we know what rheumatism is.

The Ephphatha Episcopal Mission for the Deaf will hold a celebration of its 46th anniversary on Feb. 2d next, together with a Valentine Social. Mrs. A. R. Schneider is chairman, and promises a good time to all who attend. Everybody welcome, and the admission will be free. Refreshments served.

Better make a New Year's resolution to take the JOURNAL, and to enjoy fifty-two weeks of good news concerning the deaf.

Servetus Seppanen was called to his home town, Atlantic Mine, Houghton Co., Mich., on December 19th, to attend the funeral of his married sister, Hilda, who was buried on December 22d. He has the sympathy of his many Detroit friends in his bereavement. He is employed at the American Motor Body Co., of this city.

Friends of Mrs. Bernice Cushing Lindly were shocked to hear of her death in Tiesca, Ind., late in November. She was born near Flint, and educated at the Michigan School for the Deaf. Ill health compelled her to give up her studies, and she never entirely recovered. She was at one time employed at the Flint School.

She married a Mr. Lindly, (bearing of Tiesca, Ind., who with a sister, is left to mourn her loss. A wedding card was received by Mrs. C. C. Colby, announcing the wedding of Miss Sarah Scarborough to Samuel M. Verner, at Belfast, Ireland, June 3d, 1923. At home, 16 Rensselaer St., Belfast, Ireland.

Miss Scarborough will be remembered by Detroiters as a very popular young lady, who came here to attend the N. A. D. Convention, and liked the city so well that she decided to stay. Her home was in Boston, Mass., to which place she went from here about a year and a half ago, and later became engaged to Samuel Verner, of Belfast, and finally left with her sister for Ireland, where she was married last June. Boston mutes made her many handsome presents upon her departure from the United States. She has the hearty congratulations of her host of Detroit friends.

Jan. 9, 1923

OHIO.

(News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 908 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.)

January 6, 1923—Ray Meinzer and Ivalone McKinnie decided to begin the new year by forming a union with each other get married—and so on January 3d, they made their vows. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister at Delaware, O., in the presence of only immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. C. W. Charles united them, after which they started on their honeymoon trip in a Buick auto for Upper Sandusky, the home of the groom, where he is engaged as a farmer, and is also noted as a good driver of an automobile. Both were educated at the school here, the bride graduating last June. Here is hoping the union will prove a happy one to both.

The Columbus deaf owners of automobiles, Messrs. Herman and Charles Cook, Elasco Burham, Herbert Volk, Harry Romoser and Laird Miller, have joined the Columbus Automobile Club. At a meeting held December 23d with the Secretary of the Columbus Club, Mr. Rodian explained the advantages they would receive by becoming members. The proposed auto law that will come up before the legislature soon, prohibits the deaf from driving a machine, but the Columbus Club is going to fight it, and has as backers three lawyers—Judge Meals, of Cleveland, C. D. Saviers, of Columbus, and Miss Thurston, of Toledo, besides the two senators from this Senatorial district, three of the county members, and the secretaries of the sixty nine Automobile Clubs of the State. The club has the bill amended so that only persons without arms and legs will be prohibited from steering an automobile, and no stone will be left unturned to accomplish its mission. They were told to watch the legislature, and the deaf owners of machines have called Mr. MacGregor to attend to this.

Deaf owners of trucks and owners throughout the State should join the Auto Club near them, and thus secure protection. Do not mind the payment of the $10 fee, for it secures to you the right to run your machine, and you secure other advantages that will come handy in time of accident or trouble.

Mr. Zell, who drives the auto for his mother, as far as we know did not join the Columbus Club, probably for the reason that he does not own the auto. He will probably do so later on, in order to secure the advantages under the law.

The deaf auto owners of Akron have also formed a club, and propose to join the local one of their city.

Dr. H. S. MacAyeal, the State's Director of Public Welfare, who will retire January 8th, in his final report to the Governor concerning his department, among other things suggests the sale of the school for the deaf to the city of Columbus. He recites the fact that a recommendation to this effect has been made by J. W. Jones, superintendent, and expresses the belief that gratifying results could be obtained if such a change was made. He points out the fact that the present State institution, in size, location and adaptability, is peculiarly suitable for public school purposes, while he suggested that the money derived from the sale be used to begin the erection of an entirely new institution.

He also suggests that the State schools for the deaf and the blind be taken from the department of public welfare and transferred to the department of education. The deaf of the State have long desired such a step. What the new governor and the legislature will do in the matter is now unknown, but pressure will no doubt be brought upon them to have the change made. But even if it should be accomplished at this session of the legislature, it will be several years before the school would change places, for new grounds would have to be purchased and new buildings erected, before the moving out process could be undertaken. But if the school is taken out from the department of public welfare, there will be one satisfaction accomplished.

Mr. Mayer, the teacher of painting, lives out in the country, and being there also uses his time in raising poultry and pigs as side lines, for his family and some to sell. Last week he had three porkers butchered, weighing from 250 to 275 lb. Sausage, spare ribs with kraut, roast ham and bacon, will be on his bill of fare for some time.

St. Louis Briefs

Mrs. Elizabeth Garth has returned home, after an extended visit with her daughter in Little Rock.

Socials will be given at St. Thomas' Mission, 1210 Locust Street, on the evening of the fourth Saturday of the month, except during Lent. The next social is to be on the evening of January 27th.

Miss Louise Brookes, Gallaudet School's sole representative at Gallaudet College, came home for the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Mary Stigleman met with a painful accident, by falling down a flight of steps at her home recently. She is up and about, but still suffering from a sprained knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fromanack remembered their St. Louis friends with holiday greeting cards, mailed at Toledo, where they have gone for an indefinite sojourn.

At the January meeting of St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., Mr. Louis Moegle was elected Vice-President, to fill a vacancy.

Mrs. William H. Schaub gave a luncheon on December 29th, in honor of Mrs. L. A. Straus, of Montgomery, Ala., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Samuel Perlmutter, for the past month. Those present were: Mesdames Strauss, Perlmutter, Cloud, Steldemann, Harden, Chenery, Udall, Arnot, Treuer, Edward Miller, Berwin, Merrell, Garth and Froning.

Supt. and Mrs. E. S. Tillinghast of the State School at Fulton, have accepted an invitation to St. Louis on April 28th, at which time a get-acquainted reception will be given in their honor.

Bishop Johnson preached and administered the Holy Communion at St. Thomas' Mission on January 7th. Miss Pearl Herdman interpreting his sermon 100 per cent efficiently. Bishop Johnson is to be at St. Thomas' at 3 P.M., March 25th, Palm Sunday, for confirmation.

The annual masquerade ball of the St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., will be given on the evening of February 10th, at Strassberger Hall, Grand and Shenandoah Avenues.

The evening of the third Sunday of each month will be devoted to the reading and discussion of current topics, at St. Thomas' Mission hall, 1210 Locust Street. All invited. Free admission. Come at 7:30 P.M. There will be Home-Fund benefit lectures on the evenings of February 25th, April 23d, and September 30th.

St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., hereafter will meet on second Fridays at Eagles Hall, Jefferson and Lafayette Avenues. A hall which the Division desired to engage for its regular meetings was available only on the second Friday, hence the change from first to second.

The work of the Rev. G. F. Flick, of Chicago, will bring him down to Southern Illinois every now and then in the future. Here is hoping that he may find time and opportunity for crossing the Father of Waters and give sermons, lectures, and readings to the spiritual and mentally hungry west riders.

East St. Louis, the second largest city in Illinois, needs watching. Shortly before Christmas it tried to forge ahead of St. Louis in the matter of population by increasing the family circle of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams by one. All danger that St. Louis would become a suburb to the eastside metropolis was averted on New Year's day, by the arrival of a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Speigel.

Few persons who have never tried their hand at it can appreciate the amount of detail required in the work of a parish treasurer. The work of Mr. A. O. Steldemann in that capacity for St. Thomas' Mission, is certainly appreciated. Mr. Steldemann has been treasurer for a good many years, also lay reader. The Mission is fortunate in having him continue in its service.

A copy of the recently taken photograph of the St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., has been framed and hung in Gallaudet School by Mr. Barth, president of the Gallaudet Patrons Association. Forty members of the Division shown in the picture (several more were absent) attended Gallaudet School. Parents of deaf children who feel worried about the future, need only look at the Frat picture to be convinced what an education and a vocation will do.

Gallaudet College.

This week's column from the Green may be a little short, but the reporter has his usual excuse. This time it is because the R. R. Committee has suspended him for a week, and he was unable to catch on to the usual flow of gossip there. The student body certainly handed itself a lemon when it elected "Radium" Kannappell and "Chin-rew" Baldwin to the committee. These fellows use the little pink slips very freely.

The re-examinations have been the order of the week-end, and as a result the social activities are at a standstill.

The Hotchkiss memorial number of the Buff and Blue has again been postponed. The change in the editorial department, recently, is the main reason.

The Literary Society voted to extend an invitation to Mr. W. G. Jones, of the Fauwood School, to deliver an address during the second term.

W. Va. 17 Reserves 70

Archie Harten, ex-'22, erstwhile son of swat, former baseball star here, now a member of the staff at the W. Va. school brought his reserves here for a game with the Reserves.

The mountaineers have a lot to learn yet about the game, for the Reserves had no trouble with them. Harten himself scored 15 points out of the 17.

The W. Va. team had played the Maryland team the night before over in Frederick, and as several of the players were worse from wear, Harten had to play in the game himself.

Although the trip was unsuccessful from the athletic point of view, it was a splendid experience for those little mountaineers.

We'd like to see more of the school teams travel from one state to another to play, especially down South.

The line-up:—

W. Va. Reserves

Leach L.F. Capt. Wright

Harten R.F. Davis

R. Roberts C. Pucci

Bills R.G. Clark

L. Roberts L.G. S. Zopa

Court goals—Davis 13, Wright 4, Stern 2, Austin, Scarvie 4, Danofsky 3, S. Zopa, R. Roberts, L. Roberts, Harten.

Goal Goals—Harten 11 out of 17. Stern 4 out of 8. Umpire—Mr. Kannappell, Referee—Mr. Boatwright.

Manager Aronovitz, the baseball manager, reports that he has already listed ten games for the schedule. This will be published later.

Dr. Allison occupied the pulpit Sunday afternoon and made his usual interesting talk. We are finding Sunday afternoon services a relief from the dull monotony of dark, dreary, afternoons.

We all eagerly await the coming of spring.

Mr. Henry Stegmerten, '16, of Baltimore, was a visitor on the Green Sunday.

Mr. Larry Randall is now with a printing office here and is a frequent visitor on the Green.

A new fraternity, styled the "Phi Signa Alpha," has recently been organized here.

The photographs of individual Gallaudet basketeers were published in the local newspapers Sunday. They are a nifty looking lot and are well written up.

Newark, N. J.

Dr. T. Francis Fox, of New York City, will give a lecture on "Self Confidence," at Trinity Parish Hall, Rector Street, on Saturday evening, January 27th. The lecture will start at 8:30 promptly, and the admission will be twenty-five cents. The proceeds will be given to St. Thomas' Mission. It is admitted that his subject will be very important to any one, no matter what may be their religion, organization or race, so they should not miss it. The door will be open at 8 P.M.

Mr. William Atkinson, of Paterson, N. J., had a narrow escape in a jitney smash, through the collision with the trolley car, in Bloomfield, N. J., last month. He sustained a big gash on his head and some bruises on his chest. At present he is on the road to recovery at his home, after being in the hospital for some days. One man died of injuries and several persons were seriously or slightly injured. Mr. Atkinson moved himself from the seat near the driver's box, because of the smell of gasoline, and the man who died took his seat. That was his miraculous escape.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Nimmo complained of the discomfort of their nest in Arlington, N. J., and moved to a better and cosier one in Roseville, N. J., where they entertained their friends to a Watch Night affair, New Year's Eve, which was very enjoyable.

DEAF-MUTE SERVICES

It is a pleasure to record the establishment of a regular service for deaf-mutes at St. Mary's Church, Jersey City, by the Rev. J. H. Kent, of New York, on the afternoon of the third Sunday of the month, with an attendance of about fifty persons. Such services are maintained in other Churches in the Diocese and it ought to be a satisfaction to all of us that our Church is so mindful of the silent people.—Newark Churchman.

Mr. F. Hoppaugh has a fine position with the Newark Evening News. At first he was used as a substitute, but now is a regular man for Linotype. He commands high wages, and is now happier than before, because of his parents moving to Orange from Odensburg, N. J.

Don't forget Dr. Fox's lecture on January 27th. The next church services will be on Sunday, 21st, as follows: Trinity Cathedral, Newark, Holy Communion at 3 P.M.; St. Paul's Church, Paterson, 10:30 P.M.; and St. Mary's Church, Jersey City, 7:45 P.M.

OMAHA.

Local Fraternal Aid Union Lodge, No. 1103 of the Deaf, held its regular monthly meeting Saturday evening, December 23d, at Seymour Hall. After the business part was dispensed with, a social evening was enjoyed, followed by light refreshments. Wilbur Stiehler, of Lincoln, was the only non resident member. There must have been something else besides the lodge meeting to account for his coming to Omaha.

Frank Chase, who was out of work for several weeks, is now employed at Kuehn's Bakery. He is the proud possessor of four full-blooded Boston Terrier puppies, which he expects to sell for $25.00 each.

Scott Casenden, who has not been very well of late, became suddenly very ill Wednesday, December 27th, and was rushed to the Paxton Memorial Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from acute appendicitis and was operated on the following morning. He passed the crisis New Year's Day and is getting along nicely. Mrs. Casenden and little daughter stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Treuكة till her sister and brother-in-law arrived from Oog, Neb., to visit with her.

The New Year was ushered in by several Watch Night parties among the deaf in Omaha and Council Bluffs. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bingham entertained at a Bunco party, which started at 8:30 P.M., Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Long went to the girls' and ladies' prizes respectively. Horns and whistles and what not were blown, all over town for more than half an hour, and there was plenty of noise at the Bingham home. The guests at this party had quite a hilarious time. Refreshments were served at midnight. Then followed a number of amusing games. Those present beside the host and hostess were, Mr. and Mrs. John M. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Treuكة, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hazel and Mrs. H. G. Long and Jas. R. Jelinek.

Miss Mue Jensen had her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Wittwer in Council Bluffs, in the form of a bachelor's party. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Wittwer, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dobson, Misses Cecilia Birk and Gertrude Horn, and Messrs. John Marty, F. Arthur Clayton, and O. H. Blanchard.

Joe Kynel spent the holidays with his folks at Clarkson, Nebraska, and has since returned to resume his work at Nebraska Tire factory.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Nelson were host and hostess to a little watch-night party, New Year's Eve, and had as their guests, Misses Lettie Kindred and Florence Sessler, and Messrs. D. Groot and Walter Chase.

A. L. Hurt went down to Kansas to spend the holidays with his father and other relatives, and Mrs. Hurt went to Struble, Ia., to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Strinton.

Mrs. Ota C. Blankenship returned to her post of duty at the School, Wednesday, January 3d, after enjoying a pleasant ten days' holiday visit with her parents in Lincoln, Neb.

Miss Tena Anderson spent the holidays at Bloomfield, Neb., with Albert Krohn's folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Anderson took advantage of the two weeks' vacation at the Iowa School and went up to Oakland, Neb., visiting Mrs. Anderson's folks.

The Mid-west Chapier, G. C. A. A., was entertained on the evening of January 6th by Miss Grace Evans and Miss Beth Thompson, at the latter's home in Council Bluffs. At about eight o'clock some one threw a rope over the switch by means of which the Omaha power-plant furnishes light to the city of Council Bluffs.

The merry makers, nothing daunted, played several games of "500" by candle light and auto spotlights, with Mrs. H. G. Long and Mr. M. Treuكة taking high scores. A series of humorous crayon-sketches was given by Mr. Eugene Fry, the talented commercial artist. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Vernon Butterbaugh, nee Ella Cowen, of Akron, was a guest.
